To consider a request for a memorial bench at the Clocktower by Nailsworth Royal British Legion There was a discussion about whether to agree a different bench design from the same manufacturer which did not include images of weapons but included symbols of peace. This in consideration of Nailsworth's non-conformist heritage and residents. It was further discussed; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - That the garden itself isn't a war memorial garden and the bench might preclude other community uses - That the existing benches aren't due for replacement - Replacing one bench with a very different design would lose the symmetry of the garden An alternative was offered to RBL, that they approach SDC with a view to installing the bench on the empty plinth on SDC land at the bottom of Spring Hill. It was felt this was appropriate as it's next to the 'Town Twinning' tree.	Clerk
